

Life in the Garden
ZHOUPEI (50914358)

Long time ago,
there were two people in a box.
One was a girl called Adam,
and the other one was a boy called Eve.

There was no one else
in the small box.

So Adam and Eve
pleased each other
almost every night.

And when, for some reason
or another
they spent the night alone,
or when one of them
wasn't in the mood,
they used the fruit
from the orchard
to please themselves,
remembering their promise
not to eat a single one.

Eve ate first.
So he got dazing first.
In next minute,
Adam dazed with a pain.

After the pain eased,
they found
that both of their spirits went out of their real body,
and went into opposition's body.

They were so shock and scared.
At that time,
a voice appeared,
“ From now on, you guys have to live with opposition's body.
If you want to pleased your self's body,
you need to treat other one's body well.
This is a punishment.”

Since this thing happened,
Adam became a boy,
while Eve was a girl.
